Validation of Digital Certificates:

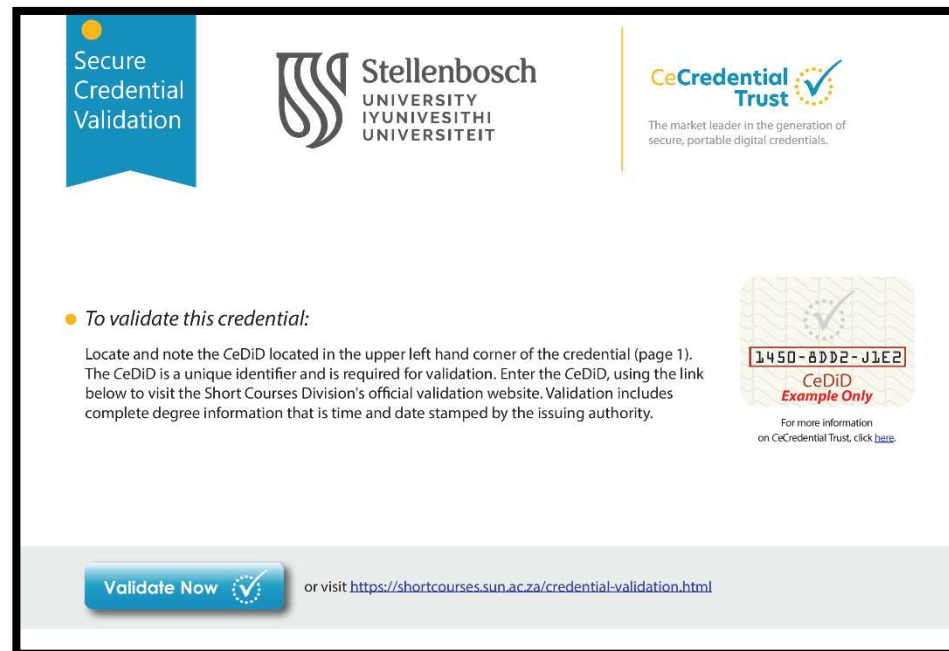

When applying for a job, you can share your digital certificate with your potential employer via email, LinkedIn, or online applications. Your potential employer can use the validation code on the top left corner to validate your certificate's authenticity and that the information on the certificate is the same as what Stellenbosch University has on their data management systems. This is also your potential employer's way to confirm the certificate belongs to you as the participant who completed or attended the short course.

It's important to remember that you don't have to validate your certificate to make the certificate more valuable or to activate your certificate's validity. The moment you receive the certificate via our standard process it is considered an original or a true copy. The validation process is only for third-party individuals who are interested in verifying the authenticity of your certificate for employment, continued professional development, or internal staff development confirmation.

Please Note:

1. Digital certificates cannot be printed to maintain and uphold the standards and security of Stellenbosch University's monolithic brand architecture.
2. If you require a printed certificate, you may request an additional certificate.
3. Certificates are issued in the name of the participant at the time of attendance and completion of the short course. Additional certificates will not be issued to accommodate a name change that occurs after attendance and completion of the short course.
4. Additional format certificates will not be considered for short courses attended more than ten years ago.

Information required and process to follow:

Please send your written request for an additional format certificate to scc@sun.ac.za and indicate your full name, SU number, and short course attended.
